WESTWOOD'S GRETCHEN LANDINI RECOGNIZED WITH AWARD FROM SWE

January 28, 2008

Westwood Professional Services, Inc., a Minnesota-based Land and Energy development consultant, is pleased to announce that Gretchen Landini has been recognized with the Society of Women Engineers (SWE) Professional Development Series Award for Fiscal Year 07. In her role as Professional Development Co-chair, Gretchen planned and executed a series of professional development meetings throughout the year under the theme "Diversity of Thought". Due to Gretchen's attention to detail and professionalism, the section was able to offer exciting and thought provoking meetings to the membership which included an Annual Open House, a talk on the United States being competitive in a global market, a talk on "Taking Advantage of a Woman's Touch in Your Organization", and a behind the scenes tour of the Water Park of America. By being active in SWE, Gretchen helped the Society reach their goal and also strengthen and broaden her own skill set in the process.
