CARDA BECOMES REGISTERED PE IN CALIFORNIA

August 31, 2009

MINNEAPOLIS, MN – Westwood Professional Services, Inc., a national land and energy development consultant, announces that Chris Carda has become a Registered Professional Engineering in California. California is arguably the most difficult state to become registered in as it requires engineering applicants to pass a written 2-1/2 hour Seismic Engineering test and a 2-1/2 hour Survey test.

California's role as a leader in wind and solar energy continues to spur activity by many of Westwood's clientele. With an in-house California engineering license, Westwood can further support Wind, Solar, and Land projects in "The Golden State".

About Westwood:

Westwood Professional Services, Inc. is a multi-disciplinary consulting firm providing complete and sustainable solutions to Land and Energy development clients nationwide. Westwood's services include ROW and land acquisition, planning, engineering, surveying, aerial mapping, GIS, environmental, landscape architecture, visualization, cultural resource management, traffic, parking and transportation, construction services, and NPDES permitting and compliance. Westwood was established in 1972 and has eight U.S. offices.
